MEMORANDUM OF POINTS AND AUTHORITIES

2 Pursuant to Nevada Rule of Civil Procedure ("NRCP") 24, Proposed Intervenor-3 Defendants DNC Services Corporation/Democratic National Committee ("DNC") and Nevada State Democratic Party ("NSDP," and together, "Proposed Intervenors") move to intervene as 4 5 defendants in this lawsuit. Through this action, Plaintiff April Becker seeks to upend the results of the election in Clark County, and the extraordinary relief she seeks—an entirely new election and 6 7 an unjustified judicial intervention into the mechanics of Clark County's election administration— 8 threatens Proposed Intervenors' distinct and protectable legal interests. Proposed Intervenors 9 represent a diverse group of Democrats, including elected officials, candidates for elected office, state committee members, advisory caucuses, affiliate groups, grassroots activists, and voters. 10 Plaintiff's requested relief threatens to deprive Proposed Intervenors' individual members of the 11 right to have their votes counted, undermine the electoral prospects of their candidates, and divert 12 13 their limited organizational resources. Proposed Intervenors' immediate intervention to protect 14 those interests is therefore warranted.

For the reasons set forth below, Proposed Intervenors are entitled to intervene in this case as a matter of right under NRCP 24(a)(2). Such intervention is needed to protect their substantial and distinct legal interests, which will otherwise be inadequately represented in this litigation. In the alternative, Proposed Intervenors should be granted permissive intervention pursuant to NRCP 24(b). In accordance with NRCP 24(c), a proposed answer is attached as Exhibit 1.

BACKGROUND

In a special session this past summer, the Nevada Legislature enacted Assembly Bill 4 ("AB 4"), creating a category of "affected elections" during emergency periods for which the State would mail ballots to active voters. Those rules applied to the November 3, 2020 general election. Plaintiff's complaint touches on only one area of AB 4 and Nevada's other election laws: the processing and counting of mail ballots.

When a ballot is received by the county clerk, the counting board is required to check the signature on the ballot return envelope against the signature in the registration records. See Nevada Revised Statutes ("NRS") 293.8874(1)(a) ("The clerk or employee shall check the signature used for the mail ballot against all signatures of the voter available in the records of the clerk."). The 1 2 statute does not require that a manual or electronic process be used, specifying only that a ballot 3 cannot be flagged for rejection unless "at least two employees in the office of the clerk believe there is a reasonable question of fact as to whether the signature used for the mail ballot matches 4 5 the signature of the voter." NRS 293.8874(1)(b). AB 4 specifically allows the clerk to "establish procedures for the processing and counting of mail ballots." NRS 293.8871(1). Those procedures 6 "[m]ay authorize mail ballots to be processed and counted by electronic means." NRS 7 8 293.8871(2)(a) (emphasis added).

9 The issue of whether use of the Agilis vote processing machine is permissible under 10 Nevada law was raised by the plaintiffs—including Donald J. Trump for President, Inc.—and resolved by the First Judicial District Court in Kraus v. Cegavske, No. 20 OC 00142 1B, slip op. at 11 12 (Nev. 1st Jud. Dist. Ct. Oct. 29, 2020), a case in which Proposed Intervenors were granted 12 13 intervention. After a ten-hour evidentiary hearing, District Judge James E. Wilson, Jr. found that 14 "major metropolitan areas including Cool County, Illinois, Salt Lake City, Utah, and Houston Texas use Agilis," and that although the same system was "used for the June primary election," 15 16 "[n]o evidence was presented that the setting used by Clark County causes or has resulted in any 17 fraudulent ballot being validated or any valid ballot invalidated." Id. at 4. In denying this and other 18 claims on standing grounds, Judge Wilson concluded that "[t]here is no evidence that any vote that 19 should lawfully not be counted has been or will be counted," and that "[t]here is no evidence that any election worker did anything outside of the law, policy, or procedures." Id. at 9. And on the 20 merits, Judge Wilson explained that

- AB 4 passed by the legislature in August 2020 specifically authorized county officials to process and count ballots by electronic means. Petitioners' argument that AB 4, Sec. 23(a) requires a clerk or employee check the signature on a returned ballot means the check can only be done manually is meritless. The ballot must certainly be checked but the statute does not prohibit the use of electronic means to check the signature.

Two days after election day, another group of plaintiffs filed suit in federal court and alleged that "us[e of] the Agilis software system" was unlawful under Nevada's election statutes

4	manufacturer's prescriptions" by using "signature files from the DMV which are all scanned at
5	less than 200 D.P.I., resulting in the Agilis machine being unable to perform its required exercising its discretion, the court must consider whether the intervention will unduly delay or 1 2 prejudice the adjudication of the original parties' rights." NRCP 24(b)(3); accord Hairr v. First 3 Jud. Dist. Ct., 132 Nev. 180, 186–88, 368 P.3d 1198, 1202–03 (2016). Because NRCP 24 and Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 24 are "equivalent," Lawler v. 4 5 Ginochio, 94 Nev. 623, 626, 584 P.2d 667, 668 (1978), "[f]ederal cases interpreting [Rule 24] 'are strong persuasive authority." Exec. Mgmt., Ltd. v. Ticor Title Ins. Co., 118 Nev. 46, 53, 38 P.3d 6 7 872, 876 (2002) (quoting Las Vegas Novelty, Inc. v. Fernandez, 106 Nev. 113, 119, 787 P.2d 772, 776 (1990)). 8 9 ARGUMENT 10 I. Proposed Intervenors satisfy NRCP 24(a)'s requirements for intervention as a matter of right. 11 Proposed Intervenors satisfy each of the four requirements of NRCP 24(a). 12 First and second, Proposed Intervenors have significantly protectable interests in this 13 lawsuit that might be impaired by Plaintiff's causes of action. "A 'significantly protectable 14 interest' ... is protected under the law and bears a relationship to the plaintiff's claims." Am. 15 Home Assurance Co., 122 Nev. at 239, 147 P.3d at 1127 (quoting Donaldson v. United States, 16 400 U.S. 517, 531, 91 S. Ct. 534, 542 (1971)). In assessing whether such an interest is sufficiently 17 "impair[ed] or impede[d]," NRCP 24(a)(2), courts "look[] to the 'practical consequences' of 18 denying intervention." Nat. Res. Def. Council v. Costle, 561 F.2d 904, 909 (D.C. Cir. 1977) 19 (quoting Nuesse v. Camp, 385 F.2d 694, 702 (D.C. Cir. 1967)). "Once an applicant has established 20 a significantly protectable interest in an action, courts regularly find that disposition of the case 21 may, as a practical matter, impair an applicant's ability to protect that interest." Venetian Casino 22 Resort, LLC v. Enwave Las Vegas, LLC, No. 2:19-CV-1197 JCM (DJA), 2020 WL 1539691, at *3 23 (D. Nev. Jan. 7, 2020) (citing California ex rel. Lockyer v. United States, 450 F.3d 436, 442 (9th 24 Cir. 2006)). 25 Here, Proposed Intervenors have several legally cognizable interests that might be 26 impaired by this lawsuit. First, Plaintiff's request to redo the November 3 election threatens to 27 disrupt the certification of lawfully cast ballots and thus the election of Proposed Intervenors' 28 MOTION TO INTERVENE AS DEFENDANTS candidates, including Senator Nicole Cannizzaro, who defeated Plaintiff in the election for State 1 2 Senate District 6. Courts have often concluded that such interference with a political party's 3 electoral prospects constitutes a legally cognizable injury. See, e.g., Tex. Democratic Party v. Benkiser, 459 F.3d 582, 586-87 (5th Cir. 2006) (recognizing that "harm to [] election prospects" 4 5 constitutes "a concrete and particularized injury"); Owen v. Mulligan, 640 F.2d 1130, 1132 (9th Cir. 1981) (holding that "the potential loss of an election" is sufficient injury to confer Article III 6 7 standing). Indeed, political parties—including Proposed Intervenors—have been granted 8 intervention in several recent voting cases on these grounds. See, e.g., Issa v. Newsom, No. 2:20-9 cv-0 1044MCECKD. 2020 WL 3074351, at *3 (E.D. Cal. June 10, 2020) (granting intervention 10 to state party and party committee where "Plaintiffs' success on their claims would disrupt the organizational intervenors' efforts to promote the franchise and ensure the election of Democratic 11 Party candidates" (quoting Paher v. Cegavske, No. 3:20-cv-00243-MMD-WGC, 2020 WL 12 13 2042365, at *2 (D. Nev. Apr. 28, 2020))); Paher, 2020 WL 2042365, at *1-2 & n.3 (citing these protected interests and granting intervention to DNC and NSDP). 14

15 Moreover, Plaintiff's requested relief of throwing out the lawful election results threatens 16 the right to vote of Proposed Intervenors' members. "[T]o refuse to count and return the vote as 17 cast [is] as much an infringement of that personal right as to exclude the voter from the polling 18 place." United States & Saylor, 322 U.S. 385, 387-88, 64 S. Ct. 1101, 1103 (1944). In turn, the 19 disruptive and potentially disenfranchising effects of Plaintiff's action would require Proposed 20 Intervenors to divert resources to safeguard the results of the election, thus implicating another of 21 their protected interests. See, e.g., Ne. Ohio Coal. for Homeless v. Husted, 837 F.3d 612, 624 (6th 22 Cir. 2016) (finding concrete, particularized harm where organization had to "redirect its focus" and divert its "limited resources" due to election laws); Crawford v. Marion Cnty. Election Bd., 23 472 F.3d 949, 951 (7th Cir. 2007) (concluding that electoral change "injure[d] the Democratic 24 25 Party by compelling the party to devote resources" that it would not have needed to devote absent new law), aff'd, 553 U.S. 181, 128 S. Ct. 1610 (2008); Democratic Nat'l Comm. v. Reagan, 329 F. 26 27 Supp. 3d 824, 841 (D. Ariz. 2018) (finding standing where law "require[d] Democratic 28 organizations ... to retool their [get-out-the-vote] strategies and divert [] resources"), rev'd on other grounds sub nom. Democratic Nat'l Comm. v. Hobbs, 948 F.3d 989 (9th Cir. 2020) (en banc); see also Issa, 2020 WL 3074351, at *3 (granting intervention and citing this protected interest).

Third, Proposed Intervenors cannot rely on the parties in this case to adequately represent 4 5 their interests. "[T]he burden on proposed intervenors in showing inadequate representation is minimal, and would be satisfied if they could demonstrate that representation of their interests 6 7 'may be' inadequate." Hairr, 132 Nev. at 185, 368 P.3d at 1201 (quoting Arakaki v. Cayetano, 8 324 F.3d 1078, 1086 (9th Cir. 2003)). Among the factors that "dictate whether an intervenor's 9 interest is represented by existing parties" are "whether the party will make the same arguments 10 the intervenor would make, the party is capable and willing to make those arguments, and the party's argument would neglect an important issue that the intervenor would not have neglected." 11 In re Guardianship of A.M., No. 59116, 2013 WL 3278878, at *2 (Nev. May 24, 2013) (citing 12 13 Sagebrush Rebellion, Inc. v. Watt, 713 F.2d 525, 528 (9th Cir. 1983)).

14 Here, while Defendants have undeniable interests in defending the actions of local officials, Proposed Intervenors have different objectives: ensuring that the valid ballot of every 15 16 Democratic voter in Nevada is properly counted and safeguarding the election of Democratic 17 candidates. Courts have "often concluded that governmental entities do not adequately represent 18 the interests of aspiring intervenors." Fund for Animals, Inc. v. Norton, 322 F.3d 728, 736 (D.C. 19 Cir. 2003); accord Citizens for Balanced Use v. Mont. Wilderness Ass'n, 647 F.3d 893, 899 (9th Cir. 2011) ("[T]he government's representation of the public interest may not be 'identical to the 20 21 individual parochial interest' of a particular group just because 'both entities occupy the same posture in the litigation." (quoting WildEarth Guardians v. U.S. Forest Serv., 573 F.3d 992, 996 22 (10th Cir. 2009))). That is the case here. Proposed Intervenors have specific interests and 23 24 concerns-from their overall electoral prospects to the most efficient use of their limited resources—that neither Defendants nor other parties in this lawsuit share. Accordingly, this is not 25 26 a case where "there is an 'assumption of adequacy [because] the government is acting on behalf of 27 a constituency it represents," since such an assumption only arises "when the applicant shares the 28 same interest." Hairr, 132 Nev. at 185, 368 P.3d at 1201 (emphasis added) (quoting Arakaki, 324

F.3d at 1086); see also id., 368 P.3d at 1201 (noting that "when the [applicant's] interest or ultimate objective in the litigation is the same as the [existing party]'s interest or subsumed within [that existing party's] objective, the ... representation should generally be adequate" (alterations in original) (emphasis added) (quoting Am. Home Assurance Co., 122 Nev. at 1241, 147 P.3d at 1128)). Rather, this is an instance where

[a]lthough Defendants and the Proposed Intervenors fall on the same side of the dispute, Defendants' interests in the implementation of the [challenged law] differ from those of the Proposed Intervenors. While Defendants' arguments turn on their inherent authority as [government officials] and their responsibility to properly administer election laws, the Proposed Intervenors are concerned with ensuring ... the voters they represent have the opportunity to vote in the upcoming federal election ... and allocating their limited resources to inform voters about the election procedures. As a result, the parties' interests are neither "identical" nor "the same."

12 While Clark County might defend its election procedures as consistent with Nevada law, it 13 cannot be relied upon to raise Proposed Intervenors' broader arguments regarding expansive voting rights. See Guardianship of A.M., 2013 WL 3278878, at *2 (affirming intervention as of 14 right where present parties' "testimony could not and did not encompass all of [intervenor's] 15 arguments or interests"); Kleissler v. U.S. Forest Serv., 157 F.3d 964, 974 (3d Cir. 1998) (granting 16 17 motion to intervene as of right where private parties' interests diverged from government's interest 18 in representation and it he early presence of intervenors may serve to prevent errors from 19 creeping into the proceedings, clarify some issues, and perhaps contribute to an amicable 20 settlement"); Ohio River Valley Env't Coal., Inc. v. Salazar, No. 3:09-0149, 2009 WL 1734420, at 21 *1 (S.D.W. Va. June 18, 2009) (granting motion to intervene as of right where defendant and proposed intervenor had identical goals but "difference in degree of interest could motivate the 22 23 [intervenor] to mount a more vigorous defense" and "[t]he possibility that this difference in vigor 24 could unearth a meritorious argument overlooked by the current Defendant justifies the potential 25 burden on having an additional party in litigation"). Because their interests are not shared by the current parties to the litigation, Proposed Intervenors cannot rely on Defendants or anyone else to 26 27 provide adequate representation. They have thus satisfied the third requirement for intervention as 28 of right.

MOTION TO INTERVENE AS DEFENDANTS

1 Fourth, the motion is timely. Plaintiff filed her complaint on November 16, 2020; this motion follows two days later, before any substantive activity in the case. There has therefore been 2 3 no delay, and no possible risk of prejudice to the other parties. See Guardianship of A.M., 2013 WL 3278878, at *3; Lawler, 94 Nev. at 626, 584 P.2d at 669; see also, e.g., Nevada v. United 4 5 States, No. 3:18-cv-569-MMD-CBC, 2019 WL 718825, at *2 (D. Nev. Jan. 14, 2019) (granting motion to intervene filed several weeks after action commenced); W. Expl. LLC v. U.S. Dep't of 6 7 Interior, No. 3:15-cv-00491-MMD-VPC, 2016 WL 355122, at *2 (D. Nev. Jan. 28, 2016) 8 (granting motion to intervene filed nearly two months after action commenced).

II. Alternatively, Proposed Intervenors satisfy NRCP 24(b)'s requirements for permissive intervention.

Generally, NRCP 24(b) grants courts broad discretion to permit intervention where an applicant's claim or defense and the main action have a question of law or fact in common and intervention will not unduly delay or prejudice the adjudication of the rights of the original parties. See Hairr, 132 Nev. at 187, 368 P.3d at 1202.

For the reasons discussed in Part I supra, Proposed Intervenors' motion is timely, and they cannot rely on existing parties to adequately protect their interests. Proposed Intervenors also have defenses to Plaintiff's claims that share common questions of law and fact—for example, whether Clark County's use of the Agilis machine violates Nevada's election laws. See Ex. 1.

And significantly, intervention will result in neither prejudice nor undue delay. Proposed Intervenors have an undeniable interest in a swift resolution of this action to ensure that the results of the November 3 election are protected and certified. Indeed, Proposed Intervenors contend that this action itself threatens to cause harmful delay in the timely certification of Nevadans' lawful votes. Given the legal and factual shortcomings of Plaintiff's claims, Proposed Intervenors are confident that their intervention in this case, and the filings that will follow, will result in expeditious resolution of this litigation.

Proposed Intervenors deny the allegations in Paragraph 5.

PARTIES

6. Proposed Intervenors admit that Plaintiff April Becker was a candidate for Nevada's State Senate District 6. Proposed Intervenors are without sufficient information or knowledge with which to form a belief as to the truth or falsity of the remaining allegations in Paragraph 6 and therefore deny the same.

7 7. Proposed Intervenors admit that Defendant Joseph P. Gloria ("Registrar Gloria") is 8 the Registrar of Voters for Clark County. Paragraph 7 otherwise contains mere characterizations, 9 legal contentions, and conclusions to which no response is required.

8. Paragraph 8 contains mere characterizations, legal contentions, and conclusions to which no response is required. To the extent a response is required, Proposed Intervenors deny the allegations.

9. Paragraph 9 contains mere characterizations, legal contentions, and conclusions to which no response is required. To the extent a response is required, Proposed Intervenors deny the allegations.

FACTS

17

10. Proposed Intervenors admit the allegations in Paragraph 10.

18 11. Proposed Intervenors admit the allegations in Paragraph 11. Proposed Intervenors 19 further note that the named defendants in Corona v. Cegavske, No. 20-OC-00064-1B (Nev. 1st 20 Jud. Dist. Ct.), also included Kristine Jakeman, the Elko County Clerk, and Aaron Ford, the 21 Nevada Attorney General.

Proposed Intervenors admit that, after the plaintiffs in Corona filed an emergency motion for preliminary injunction and declaratory relief, Registrar Gloria agreed to mail ballots to all active and inactive voters for the June 2020 primary election. Paragraph 12 otherwise contains mere characterizations, legal contentions, and conclusions to which no response is required. To the extent a response is required, Proposed Intervenors deny the allegations.

27 13. Proposed Intervenors admit that the plaintiffs in Corona withdrew their emergency 28 motion for preliminary injunction and declaratory relief after Registrar Gloria submitted his brief in response the plaintiffs' motion for preliminary injunction. Paragraph 13 otherwise contains mere characterizations, legal contentions, and conclusions to which no response is required. To the extent a response is required, Proposed Intervenors deny the allegations.

4 14. Paragraph 14 contains mere characterizations, legal contentions, and conclusions to
5 which no response is required. To the extent a response is required, Proposed Intervenors deny the
6 allegations.

Proposed Intervenors admit that the Nevada Legislature passed Assembly Bill 4
("AB 4") during a special session on July 31, 2020, and that AB 4 was made retroactive to July 1, 2020. Paragraph 15 otherwise contains mere characterizations, legal contentions, and conclusions to which no response is required. To the extent a response is required, Proposed Intervenors deny the allegations.

12 16. Paragraph 16 contains mere characterizations, legal contentions, and conclusions to 13 which no response is required. To the extent a response is required, Proposed Intervenors deny the
14 allegations.

15 17. Proposed Intervenors are without sufficient information or knowledge with which 16 to form a belief as to the truth or falsity of the allegations in Paragraph 17 and therefore deny the 17 same.

18. Proposed Intervenors admit the allegations in Paragraph 18.

19 19. Proposed Intervenors are without sufficient information or knowledge with which 20 to form a belief as to the truth or falsity of the allegations in Paragraph 19 regarding the actions of 21 Secretary of State Barbara Cegavske and Registrar Gloria. Paragraph 19 otherwise contains mere 22 characterizations, legal contentions, and conclusions to which no response is required. To the 23 extent a response is required, Proposed Intervenors deny the allegations.

24

20. Proposed Intervenors deny the allegations in Paragraph 20.

25 21. Paragraph 21 contains mere characterizations, legal contentions, and conclusions to 26 which no response is required. To the extent a response is required, Proposed Intervenors deny the 27 allegations.

28

22. Proposed Intervenors admit that the reported story appeared in the Las Vegas

23. Proposed Intervenors deny the allegations in Paragraph 23.

5 24. Paragraph 24 contains mere characterizations, legal contentions, and conclusions to
6 which no response is required. To the extent a response is required, Proposed Intervenors deny the
7 allegations.

8 25. Paragraph 25 contains mere characterizations, legal contentions, and conclusions to 9 which no response is required.

10 26. Paragraph 26 contains mere characterizations, legal contentions, and conclusions to 11 which no response is required.

12 27. Paragraph 27 contains mere characterizations, legal contentions, and conclusions to 13 which no response is required. To the extent a response is required, Proposed Intervenors deny the
14 allegations.

15 28. Proposed Intervenors are without sufficient information or knowledge with which 16 to form a belief as to the truth or falsity of the allegations in Paragraph 28 and therefore deny the 17 same.

18 29. Proposed Intervenors are without sufficient information or knowledge with which 19 to form a belief as to the truth or falsity of the first sentence in Paragraph 29. Paragraph 29 20 otherwise contains mere characterizations, legal contentions, and conclusions to which no 21 response is required. To the extent a response is required, Proposed Intervenors deny the 22 allegations.

23

30. Proposed Intervenors deny the allegations in Paragraph 30.

31. Proposed Intervenors admit that the reported story appeared in the Las Vegas Review-Journal. Paragraph 31 otherwise contains mere characterizations, legal contentions, and conclusions to which no response is required. To the extent a response is required, Proposed Intervenors deny the allegations.

28

32. Proposed Intervenors admit that the reported story appeared in the Las Vegas

Review-Journal. Proposed Intervenors are without sufficient information or knowledge with which to form a belief as to the truth or falsity of the remaining allegations in Paragraph 32 and therefore deny the same.

33. Proposed Intervenors admit that the reported story appeared on the RealClearPolitics website. Proposed Intervenors are without sufficient information or knowledge with which to form a belief as to the truth or falsity of the remaining allegations in Paragraph 33 and therefore deny the same.

AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSES

8 Proposed Intervenors set forth their affirmative defenses without assuming the burden of 9 proving any fact, issue, or element of a cause of action where such burden properly belongs to 10 Plaintiff. Moreover, nothing stated here is intended or shall be construed as an admission that any 11 particular issue or subject matter is relevant to the allegations in the Complaint. Proposed 12 Intervenors reserve the right to amend or supplement their affirmative defenses as additional facts 13 concerning defenses become known.

- 14 Proposed Intervenors allege as follows:
- 15 Plaintiff is precluded from seeking relief in this action.
- 16 Plaintiff's claims are barred by the doctrine of laches.
- 17 Plaintiff fails to state a claim on which relief can be granted.

PRAYER FOR RELIEF

- 19 WHEREFORE, Proposed Intervenors respectfully request that this Court:
 - A. Deny that Plaintiff is entitled to any relief;
 - B. Dismiss the Complaint in its entirety, with prejudice; and
 - C. Grant such other and further relief as the Court may deem just and proper.
 - DATED this 18th day of November, 2020.
