MARICOPA COUNTY
DEFENDANTS' MOTION TO DISMISS

(Honorable John Hannah)

Introduction

27 Plaintiff seeks mandamus relief through a special action to require “Defendant 28 Fontes to perform the hand count of ‘precincts,’ and not of vote centers.” (See Cmplt., ¶¶ 18–21, B). “The special action requests extraordinary relief, and acceptance of jurisdiction

1 of a special action is highly discretionary with the court to which the application is made.”
2 Ariz. R. P. Special Action 3, St. Bar Comm. Note (emphasis added).

3 Here, extraordinary relief is not available because (1) the County complied with its 4 legal duty to perform a hand count audit of ballots of the November 3, 2020 General
5 Election using a sample of vote centers; (2) the relief is barred by laches because Plaintiff 6 had notice of the process for sampling the ballots at vote centers rather than the ballots at 7 precincts years ago and a member of Plaintiff participated in the hand count process this 8 year consistent with § 16-602(B)(1) and the 2019 Elections Procedures Manual; and (3)
9 the requested relief is moot because the County already completed the hand count. Further, 10 Recorder Fontes is not a proper party because he does not conduct the hand count and has 11 no responsibility concerning it.

12 This Court should exercise its broad discretion to decline jurisdiction over this 13 action. Alternatively, as a matter of law, this Court should accept jurisdiction, deny relief, 14 and dismiss this action with prejudice.

15 Background¹

16 I. Vote-center-based and precinct-based voting

17 Arizona law grants a county discretion to establish a vote center model or a precinct 18 model for voting. See A.R.S. § 16-411(B)(4) (“On a specific resolution of the board, the 19 board may authorize the use of voting centers in place of or in addition to specifically 20 designated polling places.” (Emphasis added)). For the November 3, 2020 General 21 Election, the County exercised its discretion to establish a vote center model. See 22 Maricopa Cnty. Elections Dep’t, Election Day & Emergency Voting Plan—November 23 General Election 3 (Sept. 16, 2020), available at 25 n%20Day%20and%20Emergency%20Voting%20Plan%209-16-20.pdf. With a vote 26 center model, a voter can cast a ballot “anywhere” rather than at a specifically-assigned

1 precinct polling place. Id. at 3. Maricopa County exercised its discretion to adopt a vote 2 center model made necessary by the pandemic. Id. at 5.

3 II. Hand count audit

4 Arizona law mandates that “the county officer in charge of the election shall 5 conduct a hand count at one or more secure facilities.” A.R.S. § 16-602(B). “The hand 6 count shall be conducted as prescribed by this section and in accordance with hand count 7 procedures established by the secretary of state in the official instructions and procedures 8 manual adopted pursuant to § 16-452.” Id.

9 That “official instructions and procedures manual,” referenced in A.R.S. § 16-10 602(B), is the “Elections Procedures Manual,” or “EPM” for short. It is prepared by the 11 secretary of state, in consultation with the elections officers from all of Arizona’s fifteen 12 counties. A.R.S. § 16-452(A). By law, the Secretary must “prescribe rules [in the EPM] 13 to achieve and maintain the maximum degree of correctness, impartiality, uniformity and 14 efficiency on the procedures for [,]” among other things, “voting, ...counting, [and] 15 tabulating” ballots. Id. Before the Elections Procedures Manual can be issued, it must be 16 approved by the governor and attorney general. After approval, the Elections Procedures 17 Manual has the force of law, and anyone violating any of its rules is guilty of a class 2 18 misdemeanor. A.R.S. § 16-452(C).

19 By law, the Elections Procedures Manual must be issued by December 31 in each 20 odd-numbered year. A.R.S. § 16-452(B). The most recent Elections Procedures Manual 21 was issued in December, 2019. It is a public document, available online, to the Plaintiffs 22 and all other interested parties of which this Court may take judicial notice.²

23 Returning now to the statutory provisions for post-election, hand count audits, 24 Section 16-602(B)(1) addresses the sampling of ballots at “precincts” for the hand count 25 audit; it does not address sampling vote centers. See A.R.S. § 16-602(B)(1) (“At least two

26 ² EPM (2019), available at https://azsos.gov/sites/default/files/2019_ELECTIONS_-
27 PROCEDURES_MANUAL_APPROVED.pdf. The December, 2019, approval letters 28 from Governor Ducey and Attorney General Brnovich are included as unnumbered pages at the beginning of the EPM (2019).

1 percent of the precincts in that county, or two precincts, whichever is greater, shall be 2 selected at random from a pool consisting of every precinct in that county.”). However, 3 as already mentioned, the legislature chose to authorize counties to use vote centers in 4 place of precinct-based polling locations. A.R.S. § 16-411(B)(4). To fill that gap—and, 5 consistent with § 16-602(B) and § 16-452—the EPM provides that “[i]n counties that 6 utilize vote centers, each vote center is considered to be a precinct/polling location and 7 the officer in charge of elections must conduct a hand count of regular ballots from at least 8 2% of the vote centers, or 2 vote centers, whichever is greater.” EPM (2019) at 216.
9 Without this well-reasoned addition to the EPM, arguably no hand count audit would be 10 authorized by statute in those counties using vote centers instead of precinct-based polling 11 locations consistent with A.R.S. § 16-411(B)(4).

12 Political parties participate in the sampling of ballots of vote centers for hand count 13 audits. EPM (2019) at 215 (“The county political party chairpersons (or designees) shall 14 take turns randomly drawing the precincts, vote centers, or consolidated polling places for 15 the hand count.”); A.R.S. § 16-602(B)(1) (“The county political party chairman for each 16 political part[ies] that is entitled to continued representation on the state ballot or the 17 chairman’s designee shall conduct the selection of the precincts to be hand counted.”); see 18 also EPM (2019) at 215–16 (establishing process for sampling vote centers).

19 III. Maricopa County’s November 2020 Hand Count Audit

20 In accordance with Arizona law, the County conducted a hand count audit of the 21 November 2020 General Election (“November 2020 Hand Count Audit” or “Hand Count 22 Audit”). (See Exh. A (Maricopa Cnty. Nov. 2020 Hand Count Audit)). A member of 23 Plaintiff participated in the sampling of vote centers for the Hand Count Audit: “The hand 24 count beg[a]n on Wednesday, November 4, 2020 at 6:08 p.m. when the Maricopa 25 County Chairs of the Republican, Democrat and Libertarian Party met to select the 26 polling places (vote centers), races and early ballot audit batches to be audited.” (Id. at 1).
27 Further, “the specific polling places (vote centers) to be counted were selected with the 28 participating County Party Chairs alternating the various selections” and “[t]he

1 Republican party was selected to go first.” (Id.). The November 2020 Hand Count Audit 2 was finished Monday, November 9, 2020 at 1:15 p.m., and it determined that “No 3 discrepancies were found by the Hand Count Audit Boards.” (Id. (emphasis added)).

4 Importantly, Plaintiff Arizona Republican Party cannot claim that the Maricopa 5 County Republican Party is a different entity entirely, such that the ARP was not 6 represented at the selection process for the Hand Count Audit. Arizona law makes the 7 local county political parties a subgroup of the respective state political parties. So, for 8 example, “[t]he state committee of each party shall consist in addition to the chairman of 9 the several county committees, of one member of the county committee for every three 10 members of the county committee elected pursuant to § 16-821.” A.R.S. § 16-825. In 11 other words, the state committee of the Arizona Republican Party is comprised of 12 representatives from the several county Republican Parties, including the Maricopa 13 County Republican Party—the very party that was present at, and participated in, the Hand 14 Count Audit.

15 Nor can Plaintiff Arizona Republican Party claim that it was unaware that the 16 Maricopa County Republican Party participated in the Hand Count Audit. No later than 17 November 11, 2020—before this current lawsuit was filed—Plaintiff received a copy of 18 the Hand Count Audit in connection with its participation as a party in Trump v. Hobbs, 19 Case No. CV2020-014248 (Maricopa Cnty. Superior Court), in which it was filed as 20 Exhibit 42. (Exh. B).

21 Furthermore, the Arizona Attorney General’s Office notified the Honorable Karen 22 Fann, President of the Arizona State Senate, and the Honorable Russell Bowers, Speaker 23 of the Arizona House of Representatives—both registered Republicans—that the 24 sampling of vote centers instead of “precincts” is consistent with Arizona law. (Exh. C)).
25 Plaintiff knew, or should have known, that members of their Party participated in the Hand 26 Count Audit and that the Attorney General—also a Republican—agrees that Maricopa 27 County complied with the law in its Hand Count Audit. Yet, Plaintiff soldiered on and 28 brought its lawsuit anyway.

1 Additionally, the County is not alone in following the Manual’s sampling of vote
2 centers for hand count audits. See generally Ariz. Secretary of State, 2020 General
3 Election Hand Count Results, https://azsos.gov/election/2020-general-election-hand-
4 count-results (last visited Nov. 13, 2020) (listing county hand count results). This year, 5 Cochise, Greenlee, and Yavapai Counties have performed hand count audits by sampling 6 ballots at vote centers. (See Exh. D).

7 IV. This lawsuit

8 On November 12, 2020, Plaintiff filed this Verified Complaint seeking mandamus 9 relief via special action. Specifically, Plaintiff asks that “the Court enter an order 10 compelling Defendant Fontes [who, as will be explained, has nothing to do with hand 11 count audits] to perform the hand count of ‘precincts,’ and not of vote centers.” (Cmplt., 12 ¶ B). Despite a member of Plaintiff participating in the Hand Count Audit sampling of 13 vote centers and Plaintiff receiving a copy of the completed November 2020 Hand Count 14 Audit not later than November 11, 2020, Plaintiff alleges that “Maricopa County intends 15 to conduct the sampling in accordance with the Secretary of State’s manual, i.e. it intends 16 to sample 2% of polling places (vote centers) and not 2% of precincts.” (Id., ¶ 16 17 (emphasis added)).

18 Argument

19 I. Mandamus relief is unavailable.

20 Plaintiffs seek mandamus relief available in a special action. (See Cmplt., ¶¶ 18– 21 21, A, B). “Mandamus is an extraordinary remedy issued by a court to compel a public 22 officer to perform an act which the law specifically imposes as a duty.” Sears v. Hull, 192 23 Ariz. 65, 68, ¶ 11 (1998). “[T]he general rule is that if the action of a public officer is 24 discretionary that discretion may not be controlled by mandamus.” Id. At bottom, 25 mandamus is not “available to compel an officer to perform acts not authorized or required 26 by some plain provision of the law.” Kahn v. Thompson, 185 Ariz. 408, 411 (App. 1995).

27 1. As an initial matter, Recorder Fontes has no legal duty to record a hand 28 count audit of any ballots—not those cast in vote centers; and, not those cast in polling

1 locations. The duty to oversee the hand count of ballots cast in vote centers under § 16-2 602(B) rests with “the county officer in charge of the election.” In Maricopa County, 3 Recorder Fontes is not tasked with that duty with respect to vote centers. Instead, it is a 4 function of the Maricopa County Elections Department overseen by the Maricopa County
5 Board of Supervisors. See Maricopa Cnty. Elections Dep’t, Election Day & Emergency
6 Voting Plan—November General Election 4, 45 (Sept. 16, 2020) (describing general 7 division of labor between County and Recorder in administering elections, and addressing 8 hand count process). Despite that, Plaintiff asks this Court to order Recorder Fontes to 9 conduct a hand count audit, in contradiction of Arizona law. Yet, the Recorder cannot 10 violate a legal duty that he does not have. The relief Plaintiff seeks is not available by 11 mandamus or any other action.

12 2. Further, it would be futile for Plaintiff to amend its complaint³ by seeking 13 an order compelling the Board of Supervisors to conduct a hand count audit of precincts, 14 because the County complied with its legal duty to perform a hand count audit under § 15 16-602(B) and the Elections Procedures Manual at pages 213 to 234 by sampling vote 16 centers. As a result, mandamus is unavailable as a remedy and this special action is without 17 merit.

18 As discussed above, § 16-411(B)(4) gives a county discretion to select a vote-19 center-based model for voting that the County selected for the November 3, 2020 General 20 Election. Consistent with § 16-602(B) and § 16-452, the 2019 Elections Procedures 21 Manual permits the County to take a sample of vote centers as part of its duty under § 16-22 602(B) to conduct a hand count audit. EPM (2019) at 215, 216.

23
24 ³ Plaintiff claims its Complaint is “verified.” Perhaps it is; but, if so, it is not apparent 25 how, exactly, the Arizona Republican Party verified it. The verification page is signed by 26 Mr. Jack Wilenchik, one of the attorneys bringing the lawsuit. But it is not apparent that 27 Mr. Wilenchik has authority to speak for the Arizona Republican Party. He is not listed 28 as one of its elected officers on its website, see Republican Party of Arizona, “Elected Officers,” available at <https://azgop.com/directory/state-party>, and his verification page does not identify the delegation of authority allowing him to verify the complaint on behalf of the Arizona Republican Party.

1 Consistent with this legal framework, the County’s sampling of ballots at vote 2 centers rather than ballots at precincts therefore complied with Arizona law. (See also 3 Exh. C). As a result, there is no basis for mandamus relief because the County did not 4 violate a legal duty. Instead, Plaintiff seeks to compel the County to perform an act that is 5 not required by law.

6 3. Further, Plaintiff’s special action is barred by laches because this process is 7 not new and Plaintiff participated in the process to select vote centers—rather than 8 precincts—to be hand counted in accordance with the 2019 Elections Procedures Manual.
9 See EPM (2019) at 215 (“The county political party chairpersons (or designees) shall take 10 turns randomly drawing the precincts, vote centers, or consolidated polling places for the 11 hand count.”); A.R.S. § 16-602(B)(1) (“The county political party chairman for each 12 political party that is entitled to continued representation on the state ballot or the 13 chairman's designee shall conduct the selection of the precincts to be hand counted.”); see 14 generally EPM (2019) at 215–16 (establishing selection process for selecting vote centers 15 to be hand counted).

16 The equitable doctrine of laches “seeks to prevent dilatory conduct and will bar a 17 claim if a party’s unreasonable delay prejudices the opposing party or the administration 18 of justice.” Lubin v. Thomas, 213 Ariz. 496, 497 ¶ 10 (2006). In deciding whether a 19 plaintiff’s delay is unreasonable, a court should consider “the justification for the delay, 20 the extent of the plaintiff’s advance knowledge of the basis for the challenge, and whether 21 the plaintiff exercised diligence.” Ariz. Libertarian Party v. Reagan, 189 F. Supp. 3d 920, 22 923 (D. Ariz. 2016) (citation omitted).

23 Plainly, Plaintiff’s participation in the selection of vote centers for the hand count 24 audit on November 4, 2020—the very conduct they challenge in this suit—shows 25 Plaintiff’s unreasonable delay without justification. (See Exhibit A (Plaintiff’s 26 participation)). Further, as the Attorney General’s Office noted: “This is not a new 27 procedure. Since 2012, versions of the EPM drafted by Secretaries of State Ken Bennett, 28 Michele Reagan and Katie Hobbs have addressed voting centers with respect to the hand

1 count audit procedure. Two versions of those manuals were approved by Governors
2 Brewer and Ducey and Attorneys General Horne and Brnovich.” Laches thus bars this 3 action.

4 4. Finally, Plaintiff’s request for mandamus relief is moot. “A case is moot 5 when it seeks to determine an abstract question which does not arise upon existing facts 6 or rights.” Contempo-Tempe Mobile Home Owners Ass’n v. Steinert, 144 Ariz. 227, 229 7 (App. 1985). Here, the County already completed its hand count audit in compliance with 8 § 16-602(B) and the 2019 Elections Procedures Manual, and they completed it with 9 Plaintiff’s participation. (Exh. A). Indeed, the County provided the completed Hand Count 10 Audit to Plaintiff no later than Wednesday, November 11, 2020 in connection with another 11 lawsuit. (See Exh. B). Inexplicably, Plaintiffs bring this suit two days later to challenge a 12 completed process that shows “[n]o discrepancies were found by the Hand Count Audit 13 Boards.” (Id. (emphasis added)). The requested relief is moot.

14 II. As a matter of law, this Court should dismiss Recorder Fontes.

15 This Court should dismiss the Recorder because the requested mandamus relief does 16 not implicate his duties with respect to early voting.

17 Conclusion

18 For these reasons, this Court should decline jurisdiction over this special action.
19 Alternatively, this Court should accept jurisdiction, deny relief, and dismiss this action 20 with prejudice.

21 RESPECTFULLY submitted this 16th day of November 2020.
