ORDER FOR BRIEFING SCHEDULE

In light of the Eleventh Circuit's Opinion in the appeal of these consolidated cases, this matter is remanded for this Court to determine whether the drop-box and registration-delivery provisions unduly burden the right to vote under the First and Fourteenth Amendments. This Court recognizes that the mandate has not yet issued in the appeal, accordingly this Court is not setting any deadlines that go into effect immediately. Instead, on or before ten days after the mandate issues in the appeal of these cases, the parties shall confer and submit a briefing schedule with respect to the remaining issues on remand, taking into consideration the time-sensitive nature of this case. See Republican Nat'l Comm. V. Democratic Nat'l Comm., 140 S. Ct. 1205, 1207 (2020) (noting that "lower federal courts should ordinarily not alter the election rules on the eve of an election" (citing Purcell v. Gonzalez, 549 U.S. 1 (2006)).

To be clear, this Court is not re-opening the record for further evidence. Instead, this Court is affording the parties an opportunity to file supplemental briefs on the concentrated issues left for this Court's determination. The parties who raised the claims that remain for this Court's determination include the League Plaintiffs (as to the drop-box restrictions), the NAACP Plaintiffs (as to the drop-box restrictions), and the Florida Rising Plaintiffs (as to the drop-box restrictions and the registration-delivery requirements).

SO ORDERED on April 28, 2023.

Chief United States District Judge
